Wedding Near Pee Dee.

A pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mrs. E. L. Dickenson, mother of the bride, near Pee Dee, last Thursday, the contracting parties being Mr. Wallace Cherry, of Tennessee, and Miss Mallie B. Dickenson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. C. Dorris, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the young people.

The groom is a prosperous young farmer and is well liked by all who know him, while his bride is a very pretty and attractive young lady and is exceedingly popular with her acquaintances. Mr. and Mrs. Cherry will make their home in Tennessee.

Bowling Green Boy Was There.

We say it and we say it again, that when a really big thing happens in this wide world a Bowling Green man will be found somewhere in the very thickest of it. Color Sergeant Hugh B. Wright, of Troop E., Roosevelt's Rough Riders, is the only Kentuckian in the whole regiment, but he was one of the three first men who first planted the American flag on the top of the Altaires mountains, just back of Baquiri, Cuba.—Bowling Green Times.

Locust Year.

According to the report of the Government entomologist, we are soon to have an invasion of locusts. They say that the locusts are divided into thirteen and seventeen-year fellows, and they are all due this summer. The first named belong to the South, while the latter are a Northern product; or, in other words, the Southern locust will mature four years earlier than his Northern neighbor.

A GOOD LADY'S DEATH.

Mrs. G. Howard Stowe Passes Away Sunday Morning.

Mrs. Carrie Edwards Stowe, wife of Mr. G. Howard Stowe, died at her home at Julien, Ky., Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Stowe had been in bad health for several weeks, but appeared to be gradually regaining her strength; but a few days ago she suffered a relapse and never rallied from it. She grew weaker by degrees, until death relieved her suffering.

Mrs. Stowe was Miss Carrie Edwards and was about 38 years of age. She was married to Mr. Stowe in 1878 and leaves seven children, five sons and two daughters.

She was a consistent christian, a member of the Baptist church, and was a living example of the goodness and beauty of a christian life. She was an affectionate wife, a loving mother and a kind and obliging neighbor. She will be missed from the home circle and from the community in which her life was spent.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at her late residence and the burial followed at the Stowe homestead near by.

WILL WED WEDNESDAY.

Trenton Society Will Be Surprised by This Announcement.

Notwithstanding the fact that the contracting parties are trying to keep the affair a "dead secret," it is a fact nevertheless that on Wednesday evening, at the bride's beautiful home one mile from Trenton, Miss Ada, the accomplished daughter of Mr. C. B. Crutchfield, a prosperous and well-known farmer, will become the wife of the Hon. O. W. Wilson, the present County Attorney of Todd county.

This news comes by way of the KENTUCKIAN's "little bird" that keeps us posted of society events at Trenton, and is substantiated by the "confidential" statements of Mr. Wilson himself, who is here to-day looking after matters in the Circuit Court.

Both Mr. Wilson and Miss Crutchfield are well known in Hopkinsville society and their many friends of this city will join THE KENTUCKIAN in offering congratulations in advance.

SUPERSTITIONS ON WARSHIPS

No Seaman is Free From These Fancies, Many of Which Are Very Odd.

The most picturesque superstitions of the seas are those which govern a modern man-of-war. Every old salt in the navy believes in hoodoos and spells which may work all sorts of evils on his ship and must be carefully guarded against.

Warship superstitions have been evolved from older notions of the sea, many as ancient as the art of navigation. The great leveler, steam, has modified more or less, and peculiar dangers of warships have called forth many new theories and beliefs.

The mysterious powers of ships hoodoos are said to commence long before the ship itself has entered the water.

It is a very generally accepted superstition that if the first blow which is struck the keel brings sparks the ship is destined in some future battle to suffer from a raking fire from the enemy.

The old-time practice of stealing a piece of wood and imbedding it in the prow for good luck is, of course, impossible in the case of steel ships, though it is considered lucky to have a piece of stolen wood on board if only as a keepsake.

Another odd superstition is satisfied by placing a silver coin in some crevice of the fighting top of the mainmast or some place below decks where it touches the steel mast. Originally it was a very common custom to imbed a silver coin and preferably a Spanish coin, in the wooden steps near the mast.

President to Reward Heroes.

Prompt and substantial recognition is in store for officers in Gen. Shafter's army who may distinguish themselves in battle at Santiago.

President McKinley, understand, is holding back some of his most important army patronage as an incentive for deeds of valor for the officers who have now gone to the field. He still has eighteen Major Generalships at his disposal. Now that the young Second Lieutenants have been appointed this is about all the patronage in the way of army commissions.

All the Brigadier Generals are appointed—sixty-two in all—but by carrying out his purpose of promoting Brigadier Generals now in service to the higher grade of Major General he will have an opportunity to appoint either civilians or regular officers to the lower grade of general officers. In appointing the remaining eighteen Major Generalships, the President will stick very closely to the regular army.

There has been a great deal of pressure in behalf of veterans of the late war with distinguished military records, but the President has concluded that genuine efficiency and not sentiment must govern in future selections.

The President had a list of the Brigadier Generals in the regular army which he expected to send to the Senate, but concluded to hold it back for the reasons stated—Washington telegram to the New York Herald.

A Few Spanish Idioms.

The student of modern Spanish should observe that there are many words in the language that correspond to English words in spelling but which have an entirely different meaning.

In order to enable the readers to understand the Madrid and Havana dispatches, we interpret a few of these Spanish terms and phrases: Brilliant victory—Escape of Spanish fleet from destruction.

Enthusiasm—Happy feeling occasioned by the cessation of firing by the Americans.

Spanish courage—Ability to keep out of range of Sampson's guns.

Without damage—Without annihilation.

Cowardly Yankee—Mea like Admiral Dewey.

American defeats—Destruction of a Spanish fleet by the cowardly Yankees.

To pacify—To render desolate; to "Weyerize."

To fight a naval battle—To "lodge up" a fleet so that the Americans can not get at it.

To inflict damage upon the enemy—To fire off projectiles at the American war vessels without getting within a half mile of the true range.

Such are a few of the most common Spanish idioms, which must be learned in order to understand dispatches which daily emanate from Spanish sources.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Joseph Beasley and Postmaster Lockyer, of Lafayette, are here today.

GEN. ROYAL T. FRANK.

He Succeeded Gen. Merritt as Commandant at Governor's Island, New York.

Gen. Royal T. Frank, the successor of Gen. Merritt as commandant of Governor's Island, was born in Maine, and entered the military academy July 1, 1854. He was made brevet second lieutenant in the Fifth Infantry July 1, 1855; second lieutenant in the Eighth Infantry October 10, 1855; first lieutenant May 14, 1861, and captain February 27, 1862.

GEN. ROYAL T. FRANK.
(The New Commandant at Governor's Island, N. Y.)

During the war of the rebellion he was made brevet major July 6, 1862, for gallant and meritorious conduct during the peninsular campaign, and brevet lieutenant colonel December 13, 1862, for gallant and meritorious conduct at Fredericksburg. He was transferred to the First artillery December 15, 1870, and was made major January 2, 1881. He was made lieutenant colonel in the Second artillery January 25, 1880, and colonel of the First artillery October 25, 1884. In the meanwhile he became commandant of the artillery school at Fort Monroe November 26, 1888. His present rank is in the volunteer army, and after the war he may receive his rank as colonel of artillery in the regular army. His record as a soldier is an enviable one. He is a quiet and unassuming but determined man. He gives his orders without the slightest ostentation of authority, and is noted for his kind and considerate bearing toward his inferiors in rank.

UNIQUE MONUMENT.

It Marks the Last Resting Place of Ed Schieleff, the Founder of Tombstone, Ariz.

A granite monument has been reared above the grave of Ed Schieleff, founder of Tombstone, Ariz. The grave of the dead miner is on Granite hill, overlooking the city of Tombstone. The widow, Mrs. Mary Schieleff, of Alameda, Cal., has received a photograph of the monument.

Granite hill is the highest landmark of that region. The man who now lies buried on its summit slept many a night on the very same spot while on prospecting tours. At his request his grave was cut there in the solid granite.

The base of the monument is 20 feet square and about three feet high, grounded on solid granite. The shaft itself is 20 feet high. On one side is a slab bearing the inscription: "Ed Schieleff. Died May 12, 1897, aged 49 years 8 months. A dutiful son, a faithful husband, a kind brother, a true friend." The monument is built of the brown granite blocks of the hilltop. The construction of the monument was superintended by August Barrow, an old-time friend of the deceased miner.

Ed Schieleff was one of the best known of the adventurous prospectors who searched out the mineral wealth of the great West. Of an educated family, he possessed unusual ability and energy. Oregon, Nevada and California were the fields of his early career as a miner. He drifted into Arizona and found the ore that made him rich and gave the world one of its best mining camps.

UNIQUE MONUMENT.
(Erected on Top of One of Arizona's Highest Hills.)

Good Figures to Study.

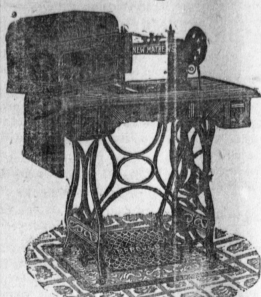

It is estimated that the triple alliance—Germany, Austria and Italy—could put 2,800 battalions, 1,088 squadrons and 6,758 guns into the field, as against 2,588 battalions, 1,753 squadrons and 7,054 guns of the double alliance—France and Russia—should break out between them. The triple alliance would have the greatest number of reserves. Germany has 1,305 battalions of infantry, 508 cavalry squadrons and 3,204 cannons; Austria, 931 battalions, 435 squadrons and 2,144 cannons, and Italy, 567 battalions, 145 squadrons and 1,550 cannons. On the other hand, France has 1,183 battalions, 560 squadrons and 4,170 cannons, and Russia, 1,555 battalions, 1,233 squadrons and 3,778 cannons.

Feeding War Elephants.

Elephants in the Indian army are fed twice a day. When meal time arrives they are drawn up in line before a row of piles of food. Each animal's breakfast includes ten pounds of raw rice, done up in five two-pound packages. The rice is wrapped in leaves and then tied with grass. At the command "At tent!" each elephant raises its trunk, and a package is thrown into its capacious mouth.

PRIVATE L. D. BROWN.

A Hopkinsville Boy With Wheeler at Santiago.

The first Hopkinsville boy to see service in Cuba was L. D. Brown, son of Judge M. D. Brown, who is with Wheeler around Santiago. He was the only white cavalry recruit from this city and went to Chattanooga and was assigned to the First Cavalry under Gen. Joe Wheeler. He is in Capt. Edwards' company and was no doubt in the brush at Sevilla Friday. Judge Brown is very proud of the fact that his boy was the first Hopkinsville man sent to fight the Spaniards.

CRAP GAME

Causes a Killing at Herndon Sunday Morning.

Her Reese Killed and Lucian Davie the Killer.

Once more the crack of a pistol has been followed by a Coroner's inquest in South Christian.

Near Herndon at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, a shooting affray occurred and Henry Reese, colored, was shot dead in his tracks by Lucian Davie, also colored.

A game of craps was in progress in the woods near Herndon and two of the participants, Henry Reese and Lucian Davie, got into a dispute, the particulars of which are not known. Reese left the place and went to the home of Wm. Coleman near by and borrowed a double-barreled shot-gun and soon afterwards returned.

Same one called Davie's attention to the approach of Reese, who was seen getting over the fence with the gun. Davie promptly retreated some distance and finally made a stand behind a very small sapling, a few inches in diameter. He then drew his pistol, a Smith & Wesson, 38-calibre, and as Reese advanced upon him, gun in hand, Davie fired at a distance of thirty-five or forty yards, a little before Reese could shoot. His aim was true and Reese was hit squarely in the center of the breast. He began to sink, but advanced several steps and finally fired the gun, the load passing through the leaves above Davie's head. Then while trying to cock the other barrel he fell dead in his tracks.

Reese was an old darky about sixty years old, who lived at Herndon and worked about by the day. He leaves a wife from whom he had been separated for some time and five children. Davie is about thirty-five years old and is also a married man, but is not living with his wife. Coroner Allensworth held an inquest Sunday afternoon, and the verdict was that Reese's death resulted from a pistol shot from a weapon in the hands of Lucian Davie. No blame was fixed on Davie and he will probably have but little trouble in getting out of the courts, as he seems to have acted clearly in self-defense, at least in the final encounter.

Davie was arrested Sunday by Constable Frank Rives and Deputy Lacy Davidson and is now in jail. He made no resistance, nor did he try to escape.

During the last two weeks the recruiting officers have visited several towns and have secured sixty recruits. At Owensboro they got 17; at Madisonville, 27; at Henderson, 5, and at Princeton, 11. Paducah and Hopkinsville are yet to be reported.

The recruits as fast as accepted are sent to Chickamauga and assigned to the companies in camp.

TWO NEW CAVES.

Said to be Rivals of the Mammoth and Colossal Caverns.

Attorney, B. F. Procter has just returned from a business trip to Colossal Cavern and showed us some beautiful curios taken from them. These caves are the great rivals to the Mammoth Cave, and are about to be opened by a company of capitalists at Louisville, and to be connected with the railroad at Cave City by an electric line of cars, says the Bowling Green Times. Dr. Hazen has discovered two other caves since the discovery of the Colossal Cavern that competent judges regard superior in beauty and size to either Colossal Cavern or Mammoth Cave.

The last two caves are thought to be parts of Mammoth Cave, and to it may be annexed by opening some avenues full of the rarest and most beautiful formations. Avenues from the two new caves have already been opened into both Mammoth Cave and Colossal Cavern; added to either would make it the greatest cave on earth.

The Illinois Central Railroad has been investigating the costs of acquiring and opening some of these caves, as an incentive to travel over its line. These caves are but six miles further from the Illinois Central road, than from the L. & N.
